

Maryland Consumers Oppose Legislation to Limit Energy Choice March 2024

The provisions outlined in Senate Bill 1 and House Bill 267 purportedly aim to enhance customer protection but risk undermining the competitive market dynamics. They strip Marylanders of their right to choose, offer scant safeguards for consumers, and represent a restricted form of market that stifles consumer choice rather than fortifies it.

To date, over 4,300 letters of opposition to S.B. 1 and H.B. 267 have been sent to Maryland legislators from over 1,200 constituents, many of which are listed below. Meanwhile, lawmakers are steamrolling forward with legislation to take away their energy choice.

We've highlighted quotes from many of these energy choice advocates as their voices have largely been ignored.

Allegany County

"It all comes down to money in life. I look for the best price for any and everything. I do appreciate clean energy choices if they are affordable. I like the monthly budget plan." – Tracey Malloy

Anne Arundel County

"My money, my choice. I'm tired of politicians trying to make every decision for me or telling me what's right for me; they don't have my best interests. I like fixed prices for long periods of time." – Robert Death

"I like the plans and products that come from clean, renewable energy and lower my carbon output." – Bryan Knapp

"I appreciate the option of choosing the least expensive source of energy." – Robert Koch

"We should be able to have choice in all aspects of life, including energy. Monopoly is a board game, not an energy choice." – Noreen Krispin

"I want to save money, control energy costs, and be able to choose renewable energy sources. I like the incentives to reduce energy usage during peak times. I like saving money!" – Donald Lowe

"As a Maryland homeowner, I shopped for new utility supplier service last year. The process took me less than 15 minutes to compare power rates on a neutral website from a wide selection of providers and select the best price for my family. The process could not have been simpler or more straightforward.” – John McGrath

“Two years ago, I was shopping for energy. Maryland choices available to me were priced very high, ranging from almost 12 cents per kW to over 15 cents. I contacted Constellation and was able to get a 3-year contract under ten cents. In that time, the standard offer from BGE varied from less than my rate to higher. I was happy to have the opportunity to control and mitigate scarce energy supply pricing. I like multi-year energy commodity contracts to reduce scarcity pricing resulting from political policies and natural events.” – Paul Robb

“I want to make my own choices, especially about energy. I like knowing how my choices reduce harmful emissions into the air and water.” – Janet Schlosser

“I always believed competition is the best way to get the lowest price available, and the energy we use is no exception. Last year my electric price went up about 10%, but I was able to more than offset that with a natural gas price decrease of 60%. I had to shop around to find that price, but it was worth the time and effort to do so. Also, the longer-term rates can be beneficial because they make it easier to budget.” – Tom Schmelzer

Baltimore City

“It is very important to me to have choices regarding my suppliers. I really appreciate the fact that there is open competition, and that naturally keeps prices much more affordable for me and my family. As I am getting older, it is much more important for me to keep costs down, and competition is the way to do it.” – Jonathan Epstein

“Energy choice is important! I want to use renewable resources such as wind power and solar power as much as possible.” – Mitchell Feldstein

“For me, having options and transparency are always an advantage. I like having energy choice because I prefer bundled products and services.” – Deborah Sheree

Baltimore County

“I want to maintain my right to choose renewable energy sources. Options bring competition and different prices for energy. Don't take away my right to choose.” – Phillip Floyd

“Energy choice is important to me because I want fixed-rate, long-term pricing for predictable billing.” – Delanie Patrick

“I am concerned about climate change, and I like the opportunity to choose 100% renewables like wind and solar power.” – Anita Spiess

“I want to be able to have the freedom to have the best pricing that works for me. I like budget billing.” – Shawn Thompson

“I found that it is cheaper for my household to shop and choose.” – Evata Wallace

“I’ve partnered with Constellation for pricing for several years. Totally legit. Perhaps our friends in Annapolis can channel their collective energy to go after the scam artists who are stealing from customers and leave legitimate operators and consumers alone when it comes to energy choice!!!” – John Wynn

Cecil County

“Energy choice is important to me because I can tailor my energy and billing products to my specific needs. I believe in FREE MARKETS!” – Andrew Boyd

Frederick County

“Energy choice saves me money over the long term when prices are rising. Power to the people and not authoritarian powers. We are Americans, not global citizens, and we live in a republic where we pick are energy suppliers.” – John Ehman

“I would like to see energy production owned by the consumers to keep prices in line and to serve the community. Renewable energies are very important to me, and I am glad to be able to choose them. I have chosen wind and solar only, and while it may cost a bit more, that is an incentive to use it carefully and efficiently as best I can.” – Lillian Herz

“Our choice is to purchase our electric power from non-fossil fuel sources. The ability to choose sources is the most important aspect of the Maryland power plan. We prefer solar- and wind-generated sources for our electricity. Any source that does not use fossil fuels to generate electricity is OK with us - hydroelectric, geothermal, or wave-generated sources would be considered.” – John Lowe

“I want to be able to choose renewable energy sources and avoid utilizing coal as a fuel for generating electricity. Energy choice makes that possible.” – Donald McEntee

“Energy choice gives me the opportunity to support renewable energy production. I like to make my own contribution to fight global warming. If people like me cannot choose electricity from renewable sources, the electric companies will have the power to push for status quo and continued use of dirty fuels.” – Olga Nikolaitchik

Harford County

“Energy choice allows me the make the choices I desire and not be forced into something I do not agree with.” – Richard Gilligan

“I want choice for my own products and services such as solar, wind, renewable resources.” – Kerry Hall

“I love Ambit and saving energy and money for my family. Also, I believe allowing energy choice is crucial for the environment.” – Patricia Wright

Montgomery County

“Simply put, the decision for my life in using my money should be made solely by me.” – Michael Cox

“I like to shop for the best price!” – Linda Galloway

“Open markets deliver choice capability to best fit consumer!” – Fred Jones

“My building is all-electric, but that's useless if the electricity is still coming from fossil fuels. I opted for clean energy sources. Every time I turn on a light or turn up the heat, I feel good about my choice!” – Janette Rosenbaum

“I like to compare options on the PSC website and lock in a rate for 1 to 3 years if rates are relatively low. I appreciate the sponsors' intention to reduce abuse and predatory pricing, but limiting future prices to the prior trailing price will preclude fixed price contracts when market conditions require a price that is above the prior price. Certainly, SOS service is not and cannot be reasonably limited to that trailing price. Visibility of competing options may be more helpful for consumers, as we are limiting the ability of consumers to sign up on the spot with a door-to-door salesperson. I understand that the legislature may not be able to eliminate door-to-door sales, but it may be feasible to limit immediate sign-ups--before consumers have an opportunity to compare competing offers. I typically select long-term fixed-price contracts without an early cancellation charge--even if it means paying a bit more than for a contract with such a fee. If it is a time when rates are relatively high, I may opt for SOS service, and revisit fixed price contract offers at a future time.” – Steve Shapiro

Prince George's County

“Energy is the lifeblood of modern civilization, powering industries, homes, and transportation networks. The choices we make regarding energy sources have profound implications for our environment, economy, and societal well-being.” – Carolyn Baker

“An open market is critical, and we need competition. With competition, consumers can do research, compare prices, and make an informed decision. My energy company provides fixed rates that are for 12 months versus the incumbent rates that are during a particular season. They also offer perks plans where you earn credits for restaurant discounts and other discounts. They also have their own app for customers. Ambit Energy is a great company.” – Timothy Jackson

Wicomico County

“Energy costs, like everything else, have gone through the roof. I want competition and to find the lowest price. Robbing me of this costs me and my family money.” – Aaron Hogue
